"Over Night"

Didn't mean to love you like I love you over night
So I know that I just can't forget you over night How I wish it could be done just turn off a switch and run
But I fout out it can't be done over night

I can act like I don't care and make it look so real
I can change the way I look but not the way I feel

How was I to know that I would lose you over night
And be trying somehow to forget you over night
But I fould one things it's true if I do stop loving you
It's something that I won't do over night
Oh how I wish it could be done...
