It's three a.m.
Daddy's up against the wall
It's the type of the end
Long distance call
They live so far apart
She's still here in his heart
And touching her world got him hooked on that girl
Read between lines
Turn each and every stone
Wishing that he could see her shine
Black pearl

Hearing that voice
So warm
So cruel
He got no choice
Doesn't care to be a fool
Someday they'll be together
Someday, somehow
In the shade of a mango tree they'll revive their history
Read between lines
Turn each and every stone
Wishing that he could see her shine
Black pearl

Someday they'll be together
Someday, somehow
In the shade of a mango tree they'll revive their history
Read between lines
Turn each and every stone
Wishing that he could see her shine
Black pearl
Black pearl
Black pearl
Black pearl
