

Maria Haukaas Storeng

"Let Go"

Visit "Let Go" on MotoLyrics.com

Stop the bus - hoo, hold it - I need to get off
My life is set on cruise control and I can't make it stop
I utrn another corner and everything's the same
My life is like a photograph I'm stuck within the frame
For every dream you might have
For every good time gone bad
For every chance blown - for every day flown
For every doubt you ever had
For what tomorrow will bring
If you'll lose if you'll win
You'll never know until you let go
You will never know until you let go
Thinkin' 'bout your future - what's it got in store
Always getting everything and always wanting more
Everbody's searching for that pot of gold
It's really not that complicated just look into your soul
For every dream you might have
For every good time gone bad
For every chance blown - for every day flown
For every doubt you ever had
For what tomorrow will bring
If you'll lose if you'll win
You'll never know until you let go
You will never know until you let go
If you're on a one way street looking for a different beat
Wondering if it's greener over there
The moral of the story is
I might become just what you wish
You will never know until you try
For every dream you might have
For every good time gone bad
For every chance blown - for every day flown
For every doubt you ever had
For what tomorrow will bring
If you'll lose if you'll win
You'll never know until you let go
You will never know until you let go

Visit Maria Haukaas Storeng page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

