Each confession I make
Translates to you as an insult
We must rid ourselves of this habit
I once heard you say youll never love anyone more
Then why am I still fighting you?
And its never felt like this before
No, we have never fought like this before
But you should know

That Im on your side
I am on your side
Although it may seem useless
I am on your side

Your hands are bearing one down to the bone
But youre still holding on me
So I tightened my grip
My god I wont let you slip
But can you breath this way
And its never felt like this before

No, weve never fought like this before

And Im on your side
I am on your side
Although it may seem useless
I am on your side
I am on your side
Love was never this frale or so good when its good
No its never felt like this before
No its never felt like this before

And Im on your side
I am on your side
Although it may seem useless
I am on your side
I am on your side
I am on your side
