Mom, please tell me what to do,
I'm so disappointed in you.

You said those words that made me cry
and I always wondered why, why I sing my lullaby.

Mom, please hurry home to me,
I've waited up so patiently.

You sit down and you start to cry,
but you never ask me why, why I sing my lullaby.
Why I sing my lullaby.

Was it my fault they led you in the wrong direction?
Was it my fault they didn't show you any affection?

I show you and I start to cry, still you always wonder why...
why I sing my lullaby.

Mom, why love me, if you're cold?
You just get bitter then grow old.
Ask me when I start to weep, then I tell you in my sleep
that I sing my lullaby,

why I sing my lullaby (4x)
