I looked away the other day, growing up slowly
Have you ever heard me laugh so easily
It's cause I'm growing up slowly

Oh Viktoria

Me and my confidence, we are now more than friends
We're growing up slowly
She lives in me, whispers when I sleep
She says "you're growin up slowly"

Oh Viktoria

I have let go of my demons
They let me when I sang the truth
No bulges, I'm finally even
I can break all my rules

When I was 10, my mother changed my name
She said "you're gonna grow into it"
It took quite some time, but today it feels like mine
I guess I grew slowly

Oh Viktoria

I have let go of my demons
They let me when I sang the truth
No bulges, I'm finally even
I can break all my rules
