

Maria Solheim

"Hidden Poetry"

Visit "Hidden Poetry" on MotoLyrics.com

She stole my sentence, stole my pen
I tried my best to get it back again
She hit me hard with a strong hand
I made a grin and left the land

I missed the train I can't get home got no more money on my phone I sleep outside and here I'll stay 'Cause once I'm here, wont go away

Poetry written so noone
can hear
my nervous scream
my endless fear
my dream
All of my words chosen carefully will not stand in the way will not jump in the sea

Where is the hope where is the truth
(my answers are drowned in the name of my youth)
I press my nose against the floor won't do it again - never doen it before My belly button starts to burn
The greatest concern is what I earn

Poetry written so noone
can hear
my nervous scream
my endless fear
my dream

Shake her hand and leave her Take her tounge and say her words Society can't be explained I'll leave it to the birds

Poetry written so noone
can hear

my nervous scream
my endless fear
my dream
(repeat untill fade)

Visit Maria Solheim page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

MotoLyrics.com | Lyrics, music videos, artist biographies, releases and more.