You say:

Lady of my life, lady of my life, will you follow me?

You say:

Lady of my life, lady of my life, take my hand

How I enjoy every minute that I spend with you

How I enjoy every word that you have written

I somehow seem to forget over and over that you are there

But still

You say:

Lady of my life, lady of my life, will you follow me?

You say:

Lady of my life, lady of my life, take my hand

You say:

Lady of my life, lady of my life, you are everything

You say:

Lady of my life, lady of my life, I love you

There have been days

There have been years

Someone says it always will

There have been moments, even though that I'm still young

I build walls with happiness

I build walls with pain

And with things beyond my understanding

But through all of that

You say:

Lady of my life, lady of my life, will you follow me?

You say:

Lady of my life, lady of my life, take my hand

You say:

Lady of my life, lady of my life, you are everything

You say:

Lady of my life, lady of my life, I love you
