[Oatmeal]

now complicated at times to simplify thyself and I stumbled upon her heart could she complete myself? now its a difficult task, but not much to ask and I've been patient for that good thing but how long will it last?
my mothers worried for my future, she's haunted by her past plus the presence of a woman, "son you're movin too fast"

[Side B]

man she was a sight for my sore eyes this night and despite that for a long time, its been the wrong time for miss right no love at first site my third was blurred and deterred and I preferred these feelings matured she had all the right elements the grace and intelligence flesh on her skeleton was well blessed with melanin my seratonin rised but my head still remained parallel to plans I made that excluded the game when times change, minds change the feelings remained a confilict of interest between her heart and my brain now what was good went bad or no longer the same she gave me all that she had and all I asked was her name

[Oatmeal]

with every passin moment thoughts is like a title bout startin with a single shout of your name I cant complain lets feel it out can we go this route tell me what you're talking bout if it's right or not who am I to blame

I ain't askin for you to show me no love interest goes beyond merely hookin up I ain't askin if I could sew things up but holler at your folks and see if its sho nuff

[Raw J]

it was the second time that we met for the first I had a thirst to conversate but see life made me wait the worst feeling is when I'm taken out of my element nervousness, too many folks makin me hesitant the scene changes, still these talkin strangers "bar stools dont look right on you, shall we dance?" her body moved like a flame I felt chills a sirens trance worked its way into my senses felt natural cuz not one thought passed through I ain't askin for your hand, only wanna talk like friends do chalked up and diagramed two folks, a common land, cant replace it no need to touch, already connected by these bracelets lets face it, a shared essence only needs time to grow if we could be peoples one day you will know what I know and verse visa, its mega magnetic so lets just act the wiser 2 diamonds relying upon a heavenly refiner

[Side B]

I said lets not get tied up on attachin these strings there's many things I got my mind on or maybe the time is wrong for us to draw the line on which part of our lives that we can our can't combine on just know what you decide on cuz these titles you place theyre complicatin the chase affects my space, the pace and the way we interface see I ain't one to complain just tryin to save us the pain no need for us to stir it up if we'll be waiting in vein

[Oatmeal]

to my surprise, these asian eyes

I found something more than night life but a glimpse of the truth how a single parent planned wrong stay strong, maybe we can build emotions filled, but still too many questions to ask I let the night pass like I do these other so called sisters of mine who share the same skintone as I seeing something more than fly we can go this try deep inside I sense your terrified, but why...

[Raw J]

...must you and I get too close sho'nuff ain't askin for us to both flamboast these elbows they stay in motion my life is roller coastin unsolidified and can't interact cuz when I leave love, honestly can't tell you when I'll be back and plus the feedback indicates life as such time prevents you and I from embraces, the clutch of destiny is writin prices that we can't afford oh lord, oh lord, oh lord
