i've seen it done like, the way the dogs do i'll think it over, we're standing into your phony life and now it's all dry can't take it you will see not more than others..your phony life like i don't hear them, but i'll tell you something else when we get to the desert it's out what we left in the past..iyt tears me up pulled into a truck stop..my luck is over the plan is failing...i think not what we left in the past...it tears me up it's not what you're used to..

in the middle of nowhere but i'm and old man and i love to wander distantly
your phony life and now it's all dry, if it seemed that i had my self controlled... that's a lie

Interesting Fact: This song is about an old man who kills his wife and plans to put her in the Rio Bravo river, but gets caught when he goes to a truckstop.
