Our chemical devotions of the night
Bring endless labyrinths of vines to light

Your silent spell won't bring you home tonight
You couldn't open up your face to light

All that blossoms all that blooms lies fallow in the night
Waits for the golden sunlight
All that blossoms all that blooms lies fallow in the night
Waits for the golden sunlight
Our chemical devotions of the night
De-sanguinate limbs veined with valleys of light

Children of stone your crystal gauges of light
Crowned on you
