If I were to fall
Know I love you

If I weren't holding your hand so tight
If I were to fall through a crack in time
Would I rise or fall
Hounded and all aglow
If I weren't holding your hand so tight?

If I weren't caught in the last mistake
If I weren't holding the blind remains
Would I remember this, or end all there is
If I weren't holding your hand so tight?

Then I see you as the mad hero all alone

If I were to fall through a crack in time
If I were to fall

If I were to fall
Know I love you
