Suddenly The Change was here
Cold as ice and full of fear
There was nothing I could do
I saw slow motion pictures
Of me and You

Far away I heard you cry
My table roses slowly died
Suddenly The Change was here
I took your hand, you dried my tears

The night turned into black and blue
Still we wondered why - me and you
After all we're still here
I held your hand
I felt no fear
Memories will fade away
Sun will shine on a new clear day
New red roses in my hand
Maybe some day we will understand
