You're all the same, you lose, you win
Your mystery hides all your feelin's
You're on your way to medicate
No one to hold, no one to sing

Take another pill for love
Let it open up your mind to be free again
Think of everyone you've lost
Let them open up your heart to complete yourself

You're all alone with broken wings
Your life hinges on your direction
Look to the stars to medicate
Listen to hear the whole world sing

Take another pill for love
Let it open up your mind to be free again
Think of everyone you've lost
Let them open up your heart to complete yourself

The world to hold, live again
The world to sing, live again
The world to hold, live again
The world to sing

Take another pill for love
Let it open up your mind to be free again
Think of everyone you've lost
Let them open up your heart to complete yourself

The world to hold, live again
The world to sing, live again
The world to hold, live again
