I bet you'd never come down
From your tower for me
I'll let you take it real slow
While I try to decide
Never would've loved you
Should've left this town
Never would've loved you
But everything got turned around

It's nothing much but the same drug
It's nothing much but the same drug
Everyday
It's nothing much but the same drug
You threw it away
But I gave love anyway

She didn't come from the same world
See the same things, I can't deny

I bled on stages to get here, sent screams
Up to the sky

Never would've loved you
Never would've loved you
But everything got turned around

It's nothing much but the same drug
It's nothing much but the same drug
Everyday
It's nothing much but the same drug
You threw it away
But I gave love anyway

She did it all the way
Now she's gone today
I can't sleep without her
