I see a girl in a window
I'm passing by
As she tells me the story of my Life, full of joy, full of sorrow
With a tender voice
She relates to us all:

"There's no time for confusion
Only moments for care
Look beyond the illusion
Open up if you dare
There's no time for regression
There are no shortcuts in prayers
Look beyond your confession
That's my lesson
Be aware"

In days of thunder
In days of sunshine
That little girl, she's always there
Fading in and out of my life
She's a part of my journey
And with a tender voice
She reminds us all:

"There's no time for confusion
Only moments for care
Look beyond the illusion
Open up if you dare
There's no time for regression
There are no shortcuts in prayers
Look beyond your confession
That's my lesson
Be aware"
