There hasn't been a day
My lips are still spelling your name
Although I went my way
Your love remained the same

I can see the sunshine in your eyes
And the moonlight touching your smile
I can hear the songbirds:
"Tell no lies, the truth has no disguise"

This path is not in vain
I know that it will lead me till the end
When there's nothing more to gain
Your love remains the same

I surrender to your will
With a pure love I surrender

I can see the sunshine in your eyes
And the moonlight touching your smile
I can hear the songbirds:
"Tell no lies, the truth has no disguise"
