Finally, we have come to a crossroad
No more fear will help us to run away
My defeat turns into victory
A new route is set and done
And it will give me all the strength I need
To keep this show going on

I call you strange love
You are like a million diamonds
On a dark blue eternal sky
I call you strange love
Your heart is like an ocean
It will never run dry

Eternally, a billion stars will shine over history
All the steps we take will finally
Lead us to one path, one soul, one heart in unity

I call you strange love
You are like a million diamonds
On a dark blue eternal sky
I call you strange love
Your heart is like an ocean
It will never run dry
I call you strange love
'Cause you lead me through stormy weathers

Are you running away?
If you stop for a minute you'll see

I call you strange love
You are like a million diamonds
On a dark blue eternal sky
Your heart is like an ocean
It will never run dry
I call you strange love
'Cause you lead me through stormy weathers
Even though, even when I've lost my mind
