Harold comes over and cries on my shoulder.
While Linda keeps you on the phone.
Lord knows their tryin to keep their love from dyin.
But somehow they can't get along.

As their love grows older their hearts just grow colder.
It looks like it's over for them.
But honey I loved you so much the first time that we touched.
And I love you more now than then.

Darlin you're still new to me.
The longer that I hold you the more I believe.
That our first night together.

Well it's gonna last forever.
If only in our memory.
And darlin time won't be stealin that ole first time Feelin.

You'll always be new to me.

Let's bring back the good times.
Those days that were so fine and we'll play our favorite old songs.
Well it's a scratchy old record. But it sounds good as ever.
When we're dancin and you sing a long.

Darlin you're still new to me.
The longer that I hold you the more I believe.
That are first night together.
Well it's gonna last forever.
If only in our memory.
You know time won't be stealin that old first time feelin.
You'll always be new to me.
And honey time won't be stealin that ole first time
feelin you'll always be new to me.
