(Richard Marx/Greg Harrison)

Was it just the stars aligning
Or a matter of good timing
That made two separate hearts beat as one
Or perhaps a higher power
Giving us our finest hour
And showing us how real our dreams can become
And I'll make this simple promise
From somewhere deep inside
One thing will never change in this life

I will hold on
And if the earth should turn forever
It would not be long enough
I will hold on
And from this moment on together
I will hold on to your love

As natural as breathing
Falling came so easy
Like a feather drifting from the sky
No need to wonder
This magic spell I'm under
Doesn't know the meaning of goodbye
You're the wine and you're the water
You're the cleansing drop of rain
The mystery that only love explains

I will hold on
And if the earth should turn forever
It would not be long enough
I will hold on
And from this moment on together
I will hold on to your love

I never could imagine
That miracles still happen
Until I looked into your eyes

I will hold on

And if the earth should turn forever
It would not be long enough
I will hold on
And from this moment on together
I will hold on to your love
