As morning touches another day
I lay here thinking are you lonely
Well I asked you would you stay
Come on stay
I don't mean to be so desperate
I don't wanna bother you
But if you find it in your heart to change your mind
Come around, come around
Rescue me
Can't you see I'm falling
You turned away
Before I could say that I'm always
Falling over you
I can't seem to find the time
To figure out just what you're feeling
Would it change things if I cried
Or would you run and hide
I will never tire of waiting
I won't give up on you
And if you feel like you want a change of heart
Come around, come around
Rescue me
Can't you see I'm falling
You turned away
Before I could say that I'm always
Falling over you
Falling over you
Falling, falling
Rescue me
Can't you see I'm falling
You turned away
Before I could say that I'm always
Falling over you
