(music: marillion lyrics: steve hogarth & john helmer)

If you were a baby I would take you and run
I could hide you in the folds of my heart
There's a truth in the madness that I can't get beyond
And a fever that won't leave me alone

I don't want my heart
Don't want my head
Don't want my friends
Don't want my bed

I can't live with myself
I can't live with myself
Can't take no help
I try to want you
But I can't get beyond you

I will stare from the window
At the shapes in the rain
As the space between us drives me insane

I can't live with myself
I can't live with myself
Can't take no help
I want no one else

If I was a child
I would reuse to leave
I would sit down on the street
Kick my legs and scream

I'm not much of a man but I know how I am
I know this won't fade away
I will pretend and be strong
But I wonder where I belong

And the feeling comes in waves
A hole in my body.. aching

Like a heart dying
A soul crying

Exhausted and insecure
Took all you have and I still want more
And I reach out to hold you,
But all I do is hurt you,
Hurt you

I can't live with myself
I can't live with myself
Can't take no help
I try to want to
But I can't get beyond you

If I was a child
I would take you and run

And I say I don't know...
But I know
And I say I'll go, but I don't let go

You just spent the whole day
Driving away
