

Marilyn McCoo & Billy Davis Jr. "You Don't Have To Be A Star (To Be In My Show) - Marilyn McCoo & Billy Davis Jr."

Visit "You Don't Have To Be A Star \(To Be In My Show\) - Marilyn McCoo & Billy Davis Jr." on MotoLyrics.com

You can come as you are with just your heart
And I'll take you in though you're rejected and hurt
To me you're worth, girl, what you have within Oh honey, boy, I don't need no superstar
'Cause I'll accept you as you are

You won't be denied, 'cause I'm satisfied
With the love that you can inspire
You don't have to be a star, baby, to be in my show Oh, honey, you don't have to be a star, baby, to be in my show

Somebody nobody knows could steal the tune that you want to hear
So stop your running around
'Cause now you've found what was cloudy is clear
Oh honey, there'll be no cheering from the clouds
Just two hearts beating out loud

There'll be no parade, no TV or stage only me till your dying day
You don't have to be a star, baby, to be in my show;
Oh honey, you don't have to be a star, baby to be in my show
Don't think your star has to shine for me
To find out where you're coming from

Oh honey, girl, what is a beauty queen
If it don't mean that I'm number one?
I don't need no superstar
'Cause I'll accept you as you are

You won't be denied, 'cause I'm satisfied
With the love that you can inspire
You don't have to be a star, baby, to be in my show
Oh, honey, you don't have to be a star, baby, to be in
my show

