baby, i know you heard me say this a thousand times. but imma try my best to get it right. and make up all the promises i made to you whoa. lady it was never my intentions to make you cry. and im sorry doesnt make it right. whoa ooh, before you walk out the door let me show you what ive learned i know its a damn shame, didnt mean to put you through drama. broken promises, things i said i would never do to you. and its killin me to see you walk out, drop your bags give me a chance to turn it around. i promise im your better man, even when youre not your best. show you youre beautiful, promise to keep you number one. well girl im your better man. im gonna change the way you see all you gotta do is believe in me

oh dont give up so easily. if you do, now youll never see the possibility that we can be anything. see baby heres a ring, and girl i promise that it aint no cold feet up, up in these shoes. and if i give you the world, then i stood by my word. to see you smile it takes my breath away. whoa ohh, everything that we make, wont mean a thing if you leave
