You wait on letters

Fishing for any sign of life

Drinks after dinner

Your friends will get you to unwind

Let's skip the charades

Can we just speak plain?

I'm two left feet

When I'm home, we tap-danced on broken glass

Somehow you manage

To keep your sense of humor in tact

Let's skip the charades

You're seeing right through me anyway

Can we just speak plain?

We're playing for the same team

But I'm the one that's acting like

Acting like

Acting like

I'm so strong

You're the one that's acting like

Acting like

Acting like

Nothing's wrong
You dodged the bullet
You do your best when you're busiest
You're disconnected
You can't find your name in the script
It was you who were wildest
It was you who floated above us all
I held on with wires
Will you come back down if I let you go?
Let's skip the charades
You're seeing right through me anyway
Can we just speak plain?
We're playing for the same team
But I'm the one that's acting like I'm so strong
You're the one that's acting like nothing's wrong
I'm the one that's acting like I'm so strong
You're the one that's acting like nothing's wrong
Can we skip the charades?
Just speak plain
Can we skip the charades?
Just speak plain
Can we skip the charades?
Just speak plain
Can we skip the charades?
Just speak plain
