I can see the lights of Kansas City
It won't be long until
I'm right back where I need to be
Mile for mile I think
This has been the longest run yet

You think your second
You feel work is first
Just wait a while
I'm gonna love away the hurt
Everything your thinking bout us being apart
I can't wait to watch you forget

I need to be right where you are
I have to hold you not just in my heart
I'm tired of huggin' this blacktop
Trying to get back in your arms

When I hit cold Colorado
The road was slick
It almost let me go
I got to thinking how you never stopped holding on
The love I miss ain't worth the money I make
I finally get there
Then I'm back on my way
Seems like lately I spend most of my life
Trying to get back where I belong

I need to be right where you are
I have to hold you not just in my heart
I'm tired of huggin' this blacktop
Trying to get back in your arms

I need to be right where you are
I have to hold you not just in my heart
I'm tired of huggin' this blacktop
I'm tired of huggin' this blacktop
I'm tired of huggin' this blacktop
Trying to get back in your arms

Oh I wanna be back in your arms
