God broke the mold,
When she made this one I know
He's breathtaking but so much more
He walks in the room, your lungs closed
Making you never want to breathe again
His girlfriend has got so much dough
So much ice his neck and wrist froze
Is he faithful to him? Hell no
But he chose to be with her, shorty

Tell me is the money worth your soul
Tell me what's the reason that you hold on
When you know that dude has a whole wall of 'em just like you
And boy you're just way too fine
Got to be treated as one of a kind
Boy use your mind
Don't be just another dime

Because I can't take
Seeing you with her
'Cause I know exactly what you'll be,
In her gallery
It's just not fair
And it's tearing me apart
You're just another priceless work of art
In her gallery

He's so confused
He knows he deserves more
Someone who will love and adore
But her money's hard to ignore
He really doesn't know what to do
Boy it's just a matter of time
Before she finds another more fine
After she's done dulling your shine
You're out the door and she's through with you

Tell me is the money worth your soul
Tell me what's the reason that you hold on,
When you know that dude has a whole wall of 'em just

like you
And boy you're just way too fine
Got to be treated as one of a kind
Boy use your mind
Don't be just another dime

I can't take
Seeing you with her
'Cause I know exactly what you'll be
In her gallery
It's just not fair
And it's tearing me apart
You're just another priceless work of art
In her gallery

You're a masterpiece
I know that she
Can't appreciate your beauty
Don't let her cheapen you
She don't see you like I do
Beautiful not just for show
Time that someone let you know

I can't take
Seeing you with her
'Cause I know exactly what you'll be
In her gallery
It's just not fair
And it's tearing me apart
You're just another priceless work of art

I can't take
Seeing you with her
'Cause I know exactly what you'll be
In her gallery
It's just not fair
And it's tearing me apart
You're just another priceless work of art
In her gallery
In her gallery
