If i told you that i'd never really cared
And if i told you that i'd never cried you'd know that i lied
You'd know i lied
And if i told you that i'd found somebody new It wouldn't make it any easier and what he doesn't know
Won't hurt at all
You know just as well as i that he's a better man than i
And i know you know
Guess i never got around to telling you I guess that if i told you now then i'd have nothing to lose
Well i think of you
'cause if i told you that i'd found another girl
It wouldn't make it any easier and what he doesn't know
Won't hurt at all
You know just as well as i, you know just as well as i He's a better man than i, he's a better man than i could ever be
