"Never Look Back"

Never look back your decision you've made
Never look back close your eyes walk away
Never look back hold your head way up high Never look back you never could hide the tears in your eyes

Heaven has ended all your sweet dreams have gone
You must forget him though the hurt may live on Start life all over though the future looks black You've known so long to love him was wrong so never look back

Heaven has ended all your sweet dreams are gone
You must forget him though the hurt may live on
Start life all over though the future looks black
look back

[guitar]

Heaven has ended...
