Now that I know who you are
I almost wish that I never met you
How incredibly sweet
This has proven to be

What if you don't even recognize
What in the world you are doing to me
'Fraid of loving you right
'Fraid of holding on tight

What if I froze in my tracks
The silent turn without warning
Breaking my promise
Breaking your unknowing heart
Now that I know who you are
There's no way around me
You're too good for me

What if I'm weak when you need me the most Laugh when you need me to listen closely
Oh, don't make no mistake
I might not have what it takes

Now that I know who you are
How could I possibly find another
You, as good as you seem
You, my impossible dream

What if I froze in my tracks
The silent turn without warning
Breaking my promises
Breaking your unknowing heart
Your unknowing, beautiful heart
Now that I know who you are
There's no way around me
You're too good for me

Now that I know who you are
I almost wish that I never met you
How incredibly sweet
This has proven to be

You put all your trust in me
I'm yours indefinitely

What if I froze in my tracks
The silent turn without warning
Breaking my promises
Breaking your unknowing heart
Your unknowing, beautiful heart
Now that I've seen who you are
'Fraid of letting you down
Like you've never been broken before

How can you ever be sure?
Now that I know who you are?
There's no way around me
