(Words & Music by Marjie Parsons)

I can name all of the trees in the forest,
And I can name every fish in the sea,
But how do I explain what I'm feeling?
What is the name of what you're doing to me?

'Cause you rock my soul when you touch me like that,
My heart flip-flops like an acrobat,
You whisper things I've never heard,
MMM, this feeling's bigger than words,
Yeah, this feelings bigger than words.

I thought I was schooled in all of the answers,
Always got A's on my spelling B's,
So how come those teachers never told me,
What is the spell you've been putting' on me?

'Cause you rock my soul when you kiss me like that,
My heart flip-flops like an acrobat,
You whisper things I've never heard,
MMM, this feeling's bigger than words,
Yeah, this feelings bigger than words.

Won't you tell me if you know what's unfolding,
Anticipation's driving me insane,
It's getting stronger, there's no withholding,
This feeling that I just can't explain.

I searched through all of the words in our language,
I started with A and I went to Z,
I found that words could only hint at
This immeasurable feeling in me.

'Cause you rock my soul when you love me like that,
My heart flip-flops like an acrobat,
You whisper things I've never heard,
MMM, this feeling's bigger than words,
Yeah, this feelings bigger than words.

Oh, you rock my world and I can't explain,
The search for an answer would be in vain,

You whisper things I've never heard,
MMM, this feeling's bigger than words,
Yeah, this feelings bigger than words.
This feeling's so much bigger than words
