When you hold me like this so many memories fill my eyes the first time we kissed the times we nearly said good-bye but still here we are tested and tried and still true and stronger than we ever knew

Chorus:

Love is all the laughter and the tears that fall the mundane and the magical(miracle)
all is love
the careless word, the healing touch the getting and the giving of
all is love
there's a me you've always known the me that's a stranger still the you that feels like home and the you that never will but still here we lie tender and trusting and true with everything that we've been through

Repeat Chorus

All the glory

all the pain

all the passion

that turns to ashes

only to rise again
