

Mark Bellinger

"Somewhere Between"

Visit "Somewhere Between" on MotoLyrics.com

Verse 1:

Sometimes I search and wonder where my life should be Quiet moments scare me most, am'fraid to be with me
Victories past seem unimportant, failure rears its head
Imbibe that amber liquor and head on off to bed

Bridge:

There is a truth it lies inside from which you can never hide

Chorus:

Think I'd like to tell you now that theres something I have found
It's not deep in philosophy but its really quiet profound Wherever you are or wherever you may be Somewhere between drunk and sober lies reality

Verse 2:

The cold night wind blows an icy chill but the fire is warm inside
Mirage in the glowing embers its great to be alive
Chardonnay,good company,lifes reality aside
Wake up in the morning then you can decide

Verse 3:

Laughter of young friends now gone, still echoes through these walls
All left now is memories past the,greatest gift of all Life can steal so many things
But it can't erase the past

Verse 4:

Empty bed, where she lay her head, was nothing you could do
Can you take the pain and try again is it too much to lose
Its not so bad that your afraid, trust the fire thats in

Visit Mark Bellinger page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

