Wake up, wake up
It's not just a dream
Don't take, don't touch
I'm fighting for me

I know you came to leave
I came to stay

I'm getting off your carousel
And leaving on my chariot
Gonna find this weight is gone
And I'll never come down
I'm getting it together now
Finding what it's like to live
Once I've got myself all
Put back together now

I'll take all the pieces, put them back together
How I want them to be
I know that my life is gonna change forever

Too much, too much
I couldn't let go
It was my crutch
Now I'm standing alone

I know I'm not too steady now,
But I'll gain my strength
