Time doesn't have any exit signs
Just lights that string you along
The vacancy you're forced to fill
Is only going to prove, only going
To prove that you were wrong

And you're forced to listen
You're forced to listen
That you have nothing left

In your life, you had it in your life
You threw away your life
Throw it to me

Don't ever trust their projection
Just gonna lead you nowhere
Just gonna lead you into marking time
They say you should embrace the danger

So cross the street into the traffic
You know you'll be okay
Just let them go on by
You're stuck with me, you're
Stuck with me yeah, I'm hanging by

In your life, you had it in your life
You threw away your life
Throw it to me

A road that only leads you
Leads you under mine
Gives you no chance to breathe

They threw you in the deep end
And they left you floating
Stood on the sidelines
And laughed at your place in life
Now you can't do the dog paddle
And it's humiliating

Guessing games and calling names
Undermined by love and life

Scattered sun and terror
Doesn't make it any clearer
You can't say return to sender

In your life, I live in your life
I live in your life
And that's all that saves me
