Would you put on that long white gown
And burn like there's no more tomorrows?
Will you walk with me underground
And forgive all my sicknesses and my sorrows?

Will you be shamed if I shake like I'm dyin'
When I fall to my knees and I'm crying?
Will you visit me where my body rests
Will you put on that long white dress?

Ba dadada, da, badadadada dadada
Ba dadada, da, badadada

The end could be soon, we'd better rent a room
So you can love me

Will you put on that long white dress
While I burn when there's no more tomorrows?
Will you remember me through the years I'll miss
And forget all the sadnesses and the sorrows?

Ba, dadada, da, ba, dadadada dadada
Ba, dadada, da, ba, dadada

We got buried in the fever, now you love me
Get a room, so you can love me
