Do you remember those days when time was all that we had?

Oh my god, what I'd do for some of that now
I'd sit on the roof top and drink back some booze
You times forgotten, I love you

Just because I haven't written doesn't mean that I forgot

Just because the days are shorter doesn't mean those days are gone

We spent Spring time in the warehouse and summers in the park

Lighting firecrackers and swimming after dark

Do you remember those days when time was all that we had?

Oh my god, what I'd do for some of that now
I'd sit on the roof top and drink back some booze
You times forgotten, I love you

That summer after high school we went cruising in your car

Running through the graveyard to escape the Medford cops

By the Fall we were all drifting off the sale the seas alone

I think of you from time to time. I think of you as home

Do you remember those days when time was all that we had?

Oh my god, what I'd do for some of that now
I'd sit on the roof top and drink back some booze
You times forgotten, I love you
You times forgotten, I love you

This life we're living here. Characters come in and out of it.

This life we're living here is a tale/stage

Do you remember those days when time was all that we had?

Oh my god, what I'd do for some of that now

I'd sit on the roof top and drink back some booze
You times forgotten, I love you
I do. You times forgotten, I love you
