There's a love that I'm feeling when I look in your eyes
It's the same way I'm feeling when you're looking in mine
All the stars form a circle around you and I
Without you, it's nothing

There's one thing you should know
As we sit here all alone
Just come in close
There's something I should say

I've been thinking, wishing, hoping, praying
In your heart is where I'm staying
A love like this doesn't happen too much

Even less than ever
Like the sun and moon together
A love like this doesn't happen too much
Doesn't happen too much

When we woke up late from the sun through the blinds
Never knew I could sleep with your hand holding mine
And I feel like I'm falling for the first time
Falling

There's one thing you should know
As we sit here all alone
Just come in close
There's something I should say

I've been thinking, wishing, hoping, praying
In your heart is where I'm staying
A love like this doesn't happen too much

Even less than ever
Like the sun and moon together
A love like this

I, I've been thinking, wishing, hoping, praying
In your heart is where I'm staying
A love like this doesn't happen too much
Doesn't happen too much

I was so lonely, so lonely, lonely for you
You were my only, my only, lonely one too

I've been thinking, wishing, hoping, praying
In your heart is where I'm staying
A love like this doesn't happen too much

Even less than ever
Like the sun and moon together
A love like this

I, I've been thinking, wishing, hoping, praying
In your heart is where I'm staying
A love like this doesn't happen too much
Doesn't happen too much
