(Mark McGuinn/Trey Mathews)

I try not to think about it
Livin' this life without you
I don't think of lettin' go
When I wrap my arms around you
You're an angel
A gift from above
I thank God every day for givin' up so much

If the good Lord comes and takes you home tonight
Can't say I'd blame Him
For wanting you back by His side
I'd be a lonely man
But Baby I'd understand
He's the only one who loves you more than I do
I know Heaven must be missin' you

Tell me where do you hide your wings
They've got to be here someplace
What a beautiful disguise
But your heart gives you away
I don't know what I did to deserve
Someone like you
Here on earth

If the good Lord comes and takes you home tonight
Can't say I'd blame Him
For wanting you back by His side
I'd be a lonely man
But Baby I'd understand
He's the only one who loves you more than I do
I know Heaven must be missin' you
