So give it to me straight Do I have any chance at all and When can I find the answer it's Not helping that your eyes are piercing through this lie detector
Because I've been told that everyone has something Someone could get to know
And I hope you see that in me

'Cause I've been alone here for too long And I can't get rid of this feeling that you just might be the one
To help me up
'Cause I'm falling down

So give it to me straight do I have one chance in hell and where can I place the bets here it's gonna be close you can feel the suspense in the air

Its not fair that every time I close my eyes I see you smile It's been a long while since I could call you my friend or since I could smile you know it's been a long while
