This home has become so haunted
The bedroom is cold and bare
The kitchen table holds nothing
But the shadow of two once there

Nothing can express this sense of loss
Sensations I feel of late
Like something has been removed from me
My mind and soul amputate

Phantom Love, can you feel it?
Phantom Love, can't you feel it grow?

I feel the cut connections
Extensions made and lost
I move on without you
I dance this dance alone

My feet move with the rhythm
My heart keeps up the same pace
My voice drives the engine
But I can't fill this space

Phantom Love, can you feel it?
Phantom Love, can't you feel it grow?
Phantom Love, can you feel it?
Phantom Love, can't you feel it grow?
