I am here in spite of everything I am
And everything I'm not
And while my fears keep me from the water
My soul thirsts for You, oh God
And I lift up my hands to praise You
I lift up my voice

And I'm surrounded, I'm astounded
By Your presence in this place
I can hear You, feel so near You
And I can almost see Your face
I am clothed in love, surrounded by Your grace

You are here in spite of everything I am
And everything I'm not
And when my tears seem like my only water
Fill me with Your song, oh God
And I lift up my hands to praise You
I lift up my voice

And I'm surrounded, I'm astounded
By Your presence in this place
I can hear You, feel so near You
And I can almost see Your face
I am clothed in love, surrounded by Your grace

And I lift up my hands to praise You
I lift up my voice

And I'm surrounded, I'm astounded
By Your presence in this place
And I can hear You, I feel so near You
That I can almost see Your face
I am clothed in love, surrounded by Your grace
I am clothed in love, surrounded by Your grace

Surrounded by Your grace
