Johnny went out on a Saturday red eyed and lulled on life
Walking the streets so silently
Walking with a dead man's head
He thought he had the answer to all of his problems now he's dead dying from the fake love
Sin gave to him no matter how hard he tries
He tries he tries
Ally was the only friend he knew
Told her things would not be the same
Then she said
What is happening???
As he took her by the hand
OH Look at life through my eyes!
You have never seen such red!!
Blame it on all of those who died because life was ours!!!
Heres to a good life.
