"Indian Sky"

I can feel you moving closer
We're tied together
As we fall into the sunset
Nothing else matters
'Cause I want everything that you want
And I'd give everything I've got
Just to stay by your side

And we lie under an Indian sky
Somewhere between day and night
Lost in each others arms
You and I under an Indian sky
Red as the crimson tide
Together we watch the clouds roll by

I keep hearing myself saying
We'll be alright
As the ever changing colours
Meet the moonlight
We're alone and I've silenced the phone
Would you trust me to guide your way
If I cover your eyes

And we lie under an Indian sky
Somewhere between day and night
Lost in each others arms
You and I under an Indian sky
Red as the crimson tide
Together we watch the clouds roll by

Would you lay your world in my hand
If everything comes to an end
I want you to now that I'll be where ever you are
