"Something Real"

You wear a smile for all to see looking for someone to set you free a kind of love that lights the night then fades away before the morning light but I know one thing that you're missing and you'll know one day if you listen let me love you, let me feel I wanna get - somewhere closer to something real - yeah let me give you what you need cause we can have - something better, something real you wanted more but you got less and you've been filling up with emptiness you thought the water could be wine chasing love beneath neon signs you wanna be loved yeah don't have to be looking anymore I got something better, I got something real for sure
