(Chorus:)

On the streets of Babylon - on the streets of Babylon,
On the streets of Babylon, I found love - oh, love.

(Chorus)

In the midst of the city, in the world of push and shove,
In the buying and selling, I found love - oh, love.

(Chorus)

And who can tell me that I am wrong, look what I've found here inside:

When the world is it's darkest then, surely the light cannot hide.

(Chorus)

Babylon, your towers are burning, all things must change or pass away.

Now I have fallen in love with what I first believed was my slave.

On the streets of Babylon - on the streets of Babylon,
On the streets of Babylon, I found love - oh, love.

I found love - oh, love - I found love - oh, love.
