I think her gun's unloaded now
I guess tomorrow will be after all?
Who made me judge and jury here?
It seems I'm bearing witness to her fall

I don't know why she cries to me
(She keeps her pain as company)
'Cause it's only time before we all must bleed

Mirrors of her memory reflect
Nothing with each word she says
Her views have got me spinning 'round
I think she's burning alters in her head

I don't know why she cries to me
(She keeps her pain as company)
'Cause it's only time before we all must bleed

I don't know why she cries to me
(She keeps her pain as company)
'Cause it's only time before we all must bleed

I don't know why she cries to me
(She keeps her pain as company)
'Cause it's only time before we all must bleed

I don't know why she cries to me
(She keeps her pain as company)
'Cause it's only time before we all must bleed
