She sits all alone reading books and drinkin wine
Admires all the cracks by the doorway
She tries to look happy but she's slowly running out of smiles
Gracefully wasting away

Who is gonna make the birds sing?
Who is gonna be her everything?
Everyday goodbyes

She foolishly tries to convince herself that she'll be fine
She blows all her kisses to none
As the phone rings again, she just closes her eyes
She covers her ears and screams "please not today!"

Who is gonna make the birds sing?
Who is gonna be her everything?
Everyday goodbyes

She cries and then she sighs
And gets down on her knees yelling "I don't believe
what has happened to me"
She cries and then she sighs
And gets down on her knees yelling "I don't believe
what has happened to me"

Who is gonna make the birds sing?
Who is gonna be her everything?
Everyday goodbyes
(Repeat)
