You've found another place to hide
You tell me I still hurt your pride
And summer shines all through your hair
But love is cold cause you're not there

There is a burning in my heart
Cause you're afraid of a new start
And summer shines all through your hair
But love is cold cause you're not there

Of all the girls that I've loved before
Nobody felt so right
Of all of the girls you've tried to be
Nobody made my day complete

And all the girls that I've kissed before
I thought that I've found a light
Until I saw one girl by my side

Staring at me like a summer bride

Now here's a room we share
You tell me you don't care
But you keep just sitting there
Only "I'm not" only "I'm not"
I try to be strong enough
And I will be strong enough
I try to be strong enough
But all I want to do is Making love with you
