Oh Henry, I tell you it's no use
Trying to put out your eyes
You feel the stiffness invade
Your flesh and crawl to your mind

She shut you in a box and said
You must wait
She shut you in a box
But I'll teach you to hate

Hey, hey, hey, hey

Oh Henry, twenty years old
It would seem that you are too old
A broken toy, you're just a kind
Of walking living deadman

She shut you in a box
And tried to break your heart
She shut you in a box
And she hoped you'd die

Oh Henry, what will be your
Vision of this world
Maybe watch Henry
What she'll allow you to watch

She shut you in a box
And then she told you the words
Splashes of colf light
That destroyed all your hopes

Oh, come down here Henry
I won't leave you alone
Don't let yourself go Henry
Come on and watch TV at home

Is it a lie
Is it a lie
